

Reproduced according to the original in the year 1863 by the War Department in the Office of the Chief Engineer of the United States Army.

The positions of the troops of our respective commands, represented upon this picture have been arranged under our immediate direction and every fact herein is substantially correct.

A. Doubleday
John Reynolds
Wm. F. Goode
D. P. Cox
W. W. Wood

Geo. Sykes
John Sedgwick
C. C. Hays
Chas. Smith
Henry Hunt

GETTYSBURG

BATTLE-FIELD.

BATTLE FIGHT AT GETTYSBURG ON JULY 1ST & 2ND 1863 BY THE FEDERAL AND CONFEDERATE ARMIES COMMANDERS RESPECTIVELY BY GEN. G. H. ROSS AND GEN. ROBERT E. LEE

I am perfectly satisfied with the accuracy with which the topography is delineated and the positions of the troops laid down.

Wm. P. Marshall
Major Genl. of U.S. Army

CORPS BADGES
 CORPS ORNAMENTS
 DUGGON
 FORT
 BATTERY
 SIGNAL STATION

This drawing represents not less than twenty five square miles of territory. It has been executed with remarkable fidelity and may be relied upon as a correct delineation of the actual and artificial features of the plain where this great battle was fought.

Robert Martin
M. S. Jacobs
P. H. Schenck
W. H. Baughman
E. B. Cope
C. H. Warren